Dear

Angie was living on the streets, uncertain how she got there. She remembered a good life growing up. She had a good career. She also felt the sting of an abusive relationship that sunk her deeper and deeper into depression. She was at rock bottom when she arrived at the hospital and knew that she did not want her life to be this way. Things looked bleak and then she met the Bridgeway counselors who regularly visited.

The pieces of Angie's life are now falling back in place. She has returned to the community. With Bridgeway's help Angie lives in her own apartment and has returned to work. She has renewed family connections with her sisters and enjoys the company of her four nieces. Her downward spiral has turned into an upswing. "Bridgeway has saved my life!" Angie exclaims.

Mental illness knows no boundaries. It has neither color nor gender nor age nor level of education. It affects people of every social and economic class. It affects you. It affects me. It affects people we know and love.

For 40 years Bridgeway has served over 1,000 individuals annually, providing individualized, research-based psychiatric rehabilitation services helping people who most need help. Bridgeway is challenging and changing society's view of mental illness. Bridgeway sees the individual's potential, not just the disease. Bridgeway not only believes but has proven that with the right supports people can recover from mental illness and carry on a productive life, contributing to society. People who use Bridgeway's services are getting better and successfully taking on valued roles in the community as workers, students, family members and friends. People who have mental illness are living independently.

We ask for your support of Bridgeway's Annual Appeal. Your donation is critical to the recovery of the people we serve. Please consider a tax-deductible donation today. A return envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Your support will provide state of the art treatment and services to individuals who seek peace of mind, self esteem, and a contributing place in our communities. You will help to transform lives and communities. Please accept our most sincere gratitude for your consideration!

Sincerely,

ADRIENNE SORICELLI VOGEL
